

Alan Judd is an award-winning local novelist, biographer and freelance journalist. Three of his books have been filmed - 'Breed of Heroes', 'Legacy' (both by the BBC) and 'The Kaiser's Last Kiss' (a feature film, retitled 'The Exception'). He has reviewed widely, was formerly a columnist for the Daily Telegraph and Spectator and is currently motoring correspondent for The Oldie. He is also the author of the Charles Thoroughgood series of spy novels.
